

Audiophile OTG

OPTIMISED BY IFI

INTRODUCTION

Walking the street to your favourite beat on your Android device should put a spring in your step, but poor sound quality can make you stumble.

At iFi audio we have launched our own brand of iFi optimized On-The-Go (OTG) cables. Simply, plug one end into your phone and the other into your DAC and get ready to be blown off your feet as the music hits your eardrums in ultra-clear clarity.

iFi audio's OTG cable allows you to extract the digital signal from your DAC with ease. They are perfect for use with Android phones.

The retail price of the OTG Cable is US$15 (ex-tax) or €15/£15 (incl VAT).

Audiophile OTG

IN A NUTSHELL

On-The-Go (OTG) cable for Android devices with USB 3.0 'A' Female connector for a more stable audio connection.

FEATURES

TWO TOP NOTCH VERSIONS

The USB-C cable is USB3.0 standard and there's a micro USB version too.

SOLID, STRONG SOCKET

The USB 3.0 'A' Female connector provides a much more mechanically reliable connection, a factor that not many take into account. This Type 'A' Female connector fits directly and snugly into the flat Type A USB port of our micro or nano iDSD Black Label and ensures a strong and steady audio connection.

Type-C

micro

SONICALLY SUPERIOR

Our audiophile grade OTG cables are constructed from pure OFHC continuous cast copper, which conducts clean sound between your Android and DAC.

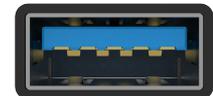

SUPER SMART

A sexy ceramic finish to add that touch of class.
